The parades are said to be now attracting much more attention than before. The tendency of merchants and organizations to wait to see "what the other fellow is going to do" is being overcome by the management and the work of constructing floats and arranging decorations is being

The session will close this afternoon, to meet in this city next year, it having been virtually decided that the making of the Grand Lodge migratory was not practicable. The matter will come up again to-day, but it is said there is no likelihood of the change being made.

The session yesterday opened after the work of the credentials committee, which took some time. The reading of reports of officers was the first business.

Grand Chancellor J. E. THE SANITARY MILK COMPANY SAYS IT WILL FURNISH IT.

The New Company Sets Out Its Plans in Its Articles of Incorporation.

The Sanitary Milk Company, of this city, was incorporated yesterday with a capital stock of $150,000. The object of the company is to carry on the business of the production and purchase, sale and distribution of milk and dairy products; to own and operate a plant for the pasteurization of milk, the manufacture of milk products of every nature and description, and the sale and distribution of such milk and milk products and in general to carry on a lawful business in furtherance of the objects of the corporation. The directors of the company are: A. S. Lockard, George and D. C. Buntin.

In the articles of incorporation the com-

"The increase in the population of the city of Indianapolis has been the means of pushing the dairymen farther and farther away from the consumer while the demand for milk has been steadily increasing. Small nearby towns and district dairymen have been called upon to supply the demand. The nearby dairymen deliver their own milk and act as middlemen for those living at a distance. The distant ones have inadequate facilities for transporting their milk to the city during the heat of summer and many have been compelled to resort to chemical preservatives to prevent loss. "It is undoubtedly true, however, that with few exceptions the dairymen fall to appreciate the care that milk should receive at the dairy and until it reaches the consumer. Drawn from the cow by her young as nature intended, and from a healthy animal, milk is wholesome and comparatively free from bacteria. Exposed to the air of stables in unclean milk vessels and measured out to the patrons in the dust laden streets it is hardly a suitable article of food for the human family. Cows naturally produce about two thousand pounds of milk per year for their young. As a machine in the hands of large dairymen they often produce six thousand pounds (six times their weight.)

SUBJECT TO DISEASE.

"The task imposed is apt to impair their health and they become subject to cattle diseases, such as tuberculosis, lumpy jaw. anthrax, etc. From the records of the Board of Health it appears that 9 per cent. of the cows that supply milk to the city were affected with tuberculosis when tested. In addition to the disease germs by direct inoculation from the cow, it is well to consider that milk is a great absorbent and a splendid medium for the development of the pathogenic germs of typhoid, diphtheria, scarlet fever and the like that float in the air and are found in water. Many epidemics have been traced to the milk of single dairies that have become contaminated by bad water or sickness in the dairyman's family. The past summer has witnessed a vast amount of sickness caused by the unsanitary condition of the milk supply. The death rate among young chil-dren has been exceedingly heavy. The near-by dairymen have been largely blamed for the trouble. Prohibitory laws have been enacted by the city. Dairymen have been arrested, and at their trials it has developed that they obtained their supply from outside sources that were beyond the control of the city Board of Health, and the city was unable to convict. The true cause of all the trouble is found in the increase in population, the increasing de-mand for milk and cream and the inability on the part of the numerous and small dairymen to meet the growing demand in "Understanding full well that with the growth of the city conditions cannot improve, that the numerous small dairymen are not in a position to correct the evils, and that the only hope of obtaining a pure supply of milk for the children and adults of the city lies with the consumer, the Sanitary Company of Indianapolis has been organized, not only to supply the citizens with a pure article of milk, but to save tremendous losses to the dairymen them-selves sustained during the heat of sum-

The water used at the dairy will be examined. Proper arrangements will be made for the protection of milk en route to the company's plant.

Depot, convenient for the receipt of milk some complaint of Grand Lodge officers a substantial two-story and basement brick structure. The floors and side walls in different departments will be nonabsorbing tile. They can be cleansed readily. The interior departments will consist of a complete power room occupied by duplicate engines, dynamo, compressors for refrigeration, pumps, etc. Also receiving and refrigerating rooms, a laboratory equipped for the testing and examination of milk, condensing department and a laboratory devoted to the modifying of milk for infants. The most improved machinery now in use in other cities for filtering, aerating, Pasteurizing and rapid bottling of milk will be installed. The bottle-washing department will also be rapid and thorough.

MILK DELIVERY. "All milk will be delivered in air-tight bottles and conveyed to the consumer by sanitary wagons of the company, properly refrigerated. Every bottle will go out unmilk contains the full amount of cream. that it is free from chemical preservatives within the reach of all. The company will have under its direct superintendency a special dairy from which milk will be obtained for the modifying department, which department will be devoted exclusively to s causing even more interest than the the infants of the city of Indianapolis, and largely under the care of physicians. The feed that the cattle receive will be dictated. The company's veterinarian will inspect the cattle regularly. The stables will be kept scrupulously clean. The men will do their milking with clean hands and will don fresh, clean clothes. The udders and flanks of the cows will be washed. Glass-lined milk pails will be used and the milk, rapidly cooled, will be delivered in three hours from the time of milking to the company for modifying.

"In many cases infants from birth are de nied human milk and cows' milk is substituted. The latter differs from human milk insomuch as it contains more casein, more ash, less albumen and less sugar of milk and is acid in reaction rather than alkyline, as is human milk. Cows' milk un modified is more indigestible to the young child than is human milk. With the installation of this department by the sanitary Milk Company the physician can prescribe the percentages of fat, sugar of milk and the proteids wanted to meet the varying wants of each child. The company will fill the prescription and deliver to the consumer ready for use. The results obtained by percentage feeding in other cities, like Pittsburg, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, New York, Detroit, Cleveland and others that have the advantage of milk laboratories have been excellent. The lives of many infants have been saved and the death rate decreased enormously. The plant completed will give to the city of Indianapolis one that will be equal if not superior to any in the United States, and will forever solve the problem of a sanitary supply of milk.'

A Third Case of Smallpox.

The third case of smallpox in the home of Mr. Norton, 1927 Cornell avenue, was reported to the Board of Health yesterday. The patient is Estelle Norton, sister of Miss Norton who was reported afflicted ing at Zionsville last night with the disease Monday. Miss Shaffer, who first contracted the disease, is still under quarantine with the Norton family.

NATIONAL PRESIDENT HERE.

The Charter of a Ladies' G. A. R. Circle Revoked.

Mrs. Etta Toby, of Logansport, national president of the Ladies of the G. A. R. Mrs. Dr. Shade, of Philadelphia, national counsel; Mrs. Catherine Hirst, past na tional commander, of Louisville, and Mrs. Jennie Irwin, department commander, of New Albany, met with five members of the A. D. Streight Circle, Ladies of the G A. R., last night, to take action upon the trouble that has existed in the order for many months. There were so few present that the meeting was adjourned without taking any action. Monday night the officers attended a meeting of the Col. Elsworth Circle and revoked its charter. The Elsworth Circle is a new one and has been organized since the recent disruption of the A. D. Streight Circle. The rescinding of the charter came unexpectedly, and at a time that elaborate D. Kahlo, Samuel D. Miller, J. W. Fesler preparations had been made for an enjoyable evening. This circle had 135 members and thirty-five applicants were at the meeting waiting to be initiated. In the ante-room were two big freezers packed with cream and other things scattered about indicated that a spread was to be set for the recruits. The meeting lasted till after midnight and it was a disappointed membership that left the hall without initiating the new members and with an unquenched relish for ice cream. What is to be done with the A. D. Streight Circle is not known, as the meeting last night was to have been in the nature of an investigation, and judg-ment was to have been rendered according to the evidence.

AUGUSTUS THOMAS HERE

WELL-KNOWN PLAYWRIGHT WILL SPEAK TO-MORROW.

He Gives the Real Story of How He Came to Write the Play, "Alabama."

Augustus Thomas, the well-known playwright, the author of "Alabama," "Arizona" and other famous plays, was the most notable arrival from New York last night to attend the convention of the Demccratic Clubs to-day and to-morrow. Mr. Thomas is on the programme for a brief address to-morrow afternoon. A characteristic remark was made by him last night immediately after his arrival at the Grand Hotel. Handing his overcoat to a bellboy he said. "Take my coat up to my room, boy, and don't step on it unless you have to, and if you find it necessary to step on it, step hard."

Mr. Thomas cheerfully accorded an interview, though he admitted he was tired after his long journey. He was asked to relate the true story of the peculiar way is which he happened to write "Alabama."

"That happened so long ago-eleven years-that it has rather an unreal quality for me now," said Mr. Thomas, "and had a distinctly unreal quality at that time. I have always been so constituted mentally that I am able to see pictures in the dark, rather vividly, and yet these pictures have a dissolving quality. I usually see them when I am laboring under some great mental stress. The incidents in question happened when I was living at the Lambs' Club in New York and was in a great deal of sentimental trouble and was also somewhat disturbed over the failure of a play, and its accompanying 'roasts.' I was in such condition that the doctor forbade me going down for my meals. I was lying in my room one night, in the dark, and Ed Holland was playing a tune called 'Down on the Farm' on the The largest stock of old, high-grade and piano in the room below. I began to see a picture of the old gate described in Alabama. I had quite likely seen it sometime before, but this time I saw it as plain ly as any man ever saw a painted picture. As I watched it I saw a tottering, gray haired man pass through it, stand a moment, and then a girl of sixteen came through and linked her arm in his. I began to speculate about the vision and in a short time found myself weaving a story about the gate, the old man and the girl. "At first I wrote it in the form of a one-act play, to be used as a curtain raiser, and second acts of the play and made my first little sketch, with some amplifications, the third act. I wrote the entire play in about four weeks in that back room at the Lambs' Club. You will see by what I have told you that the story that Burr McIntosh was the man whose piano playing created my vision is simply the fabrication of some press agent. I think the way McIntosh came into the story was because he afterwards played Ed Holland's

ECZEMA'S ITCH IS TORTURE.

Eczema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and discharge a thin, sticky fluid, which dries and scales off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable; the acid burning humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire. Salves, washes nor other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood

it will keep the skin irritated. BAD FORM OF TETTER.

"For three years I had Tetter on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. Part of the time the diseas was in the form of runsing sores, very pain-ful, and causing me much discomfort. Four doctors said the Tetter had progressed too far to be cured, and they could do nothing for me. I took only three bottles of S. S. S. and was completely cured. This was fifteen years ago, and I have never since seen any sign of my old trouble." - MRS.
